WINNERS OF THE GREAT ST. LEGER STAKES,

AT DONCASTER,

A Sweepstakes of 25gs. each, for three-year old colts, 8st. 2lb. fillies 8st.—St. Leger Course, 1 Mile, 6 Furlongs, 193 Yards.

THIS interesting Race was instituted in the year 1776, by the late COLONEL ST. LEGER, of Park-Hill, near Doncaster; but it was not until three years afterwards that it was called the St. Leger, and which was named by the late NOBLE MARQUIS OF ROCKINGHAM, at a dinner at the Red Lion Inn, in Doncaster, on the entry day, in compliment to the Gentleman with whom the Race originated.—Its appellation of Leger has been stated to have been derived from the French word Légère, or light weight; this, however applicable or possible, is not correct.

Every bettor on Filho da Puta, 5 to 2 and 3 to 1 against Lord Fitzwilliam's colt, 100 to 10 against Fulford, 100 to 8 against Shepherd, 100 to 6 against Restoration, 100 to 3 against Ottoman, 100 to 2 against Camerton, and 100 to 2 against Little Thomas; 320 to 100 Filho da Puta and Lord Fitzwilliam's colt against the field.

Very little betting, except between Filho da Puta and Lord Fitzwilliam's colt; both having numerous subscribers. Filho da Puta, however, was generally the favourite. The race was a very close one, and the colts were all well matched. Filho da Puta was one of the leading horses, and had been the favourite throughout the race. Lord Fitzwilliam's colt persevered until within the last distance, when Filho da Puta came from him, and won the race.

↳ Filho da Puta was sold to Mr. Houldsworth for 3000gs.

The Judge placed but four.

Even betting on Filho da Puta, 5 to 2 and 3 to 1 against Lord Fitzwilliam's colt, 100 to 10 against Fulford, 100 to 8 against Shepherd, 100 to 6 against Restoration, 100 to 3 against Ottoman, 100 to 2 against Camerton, and 100 to 2 against Little Thomas; 220 to 100 Filho da Puta and Lord Fitzwilliam's colt against the field.

Very little betting, except between Filho da Puta and Lord Fitzwilliam's colt; both having numerous friends, many thousands were sported on them at evens; but at starting, Filho da Puta was decidedly the favourite.—The anxious moment at length arrived which was to decide the race, on which prodigious sums had been sported by some individuals who were in the secret of Filho da Puta's powers.—Restoration took the lead, and continued for about half a mile, when the Orville colt headed him, and both made severe play; notwithstanding, Filho da Puta was one of the leading horses, and had beat his antagonists completely at the Red-House.—Lord Fitzwilliam's colt persevered until within the last distance, when Filho da Puta came from him, and won in a common canter.

➡ Filho da Puta was sold to Mr. Houldsworth for 3000gs.

7 to 4 against Mr. Peirse's colt, 13 to 2 against Sir Walter, 13 to 2 against Agricola, 10 to 1 against Archibald, 10 to 1 against Jenny Wren, 100 to 4 against Palmerin, 100 to 4 against Harmodius, 100 to 4 against Shamrock, 100 to 3 against The Laird, and 100 to 3 against Antonio.

In consequence of Colonel Cradock's Sir Walter, Mr. Lambton's Agricola, Mr. Jaques's Bronti, Mr. Watson's Harmodius, and Mr. Uppley's Wildboy, not getting off when the word was given, the above started without them; the Stewards of Doncaster Races declared it a false start, when the following again ran, (but were not started by any person deputed for the purpose) and came in as follows:—

Colonel Cradock's b. c. Sir Walter, by Whitworth, out of Esther	W. Scott . . .	1

A good race each time, but Antonio beat his horses easier than Sir Walter.—The first race was run in 3 minutes 18 seconds, and the second in 3 minutes 21 seconds.

The dispute having been referred to the Jockey Club, they gave their decision as follows:—

"NEWMARKET, Tuesday Oct. 4, 1819.—The Stewards of the Jockey Club having taken into consideration the case laid before them by the Stewards of Doncaster Races, respecting the St. Leger, and having examined Mr. Lockwood, the person appointed by the Stewards of Doncaster to start and judge the race, are decidedly of opinion, that the race should have been given to Antonio; and, consequently, that the Stewards should not have allowed a second race.

"By order of the Stewards of the Jockey Club."

Antonio was sold to Mr. Clifton for 1000gs.

The Judge placed but three.

7 to 4 against Swap, 7 to 2 against Mr. Watt's Mandane filly, 5 to 1 against Mr. Gascoigne's colt, 15 to 2 against Marcellus, 10 to 1 against Ajax, 25 to 1 against Lorenzo, 50 to 1 against Violet, 100 to 1 against Theodore, and 200 to 1 against the Duke of Leeds's colt.—So high was the betting against the winner, in consequence of his having been beaten in trials by the three horses in the same stable, and which was generally known, that any odds might have been obtained; indeed, one gentleman offered to bet one thousand guineas to a walking stick.

Theodore, Pilgarlick, and The Whig kept in front until they had passed the Red-House, when the Mandane filly came up and appeared like a winner, but Theodore won easy, by nearly a length.—It was a severe run race, and Swap and Ajax were beat very early.—Run in 3 minutes and 26 seconds.

It is rather a remarkable occurrence, that the three horses placed, and the one which was fourth, (Mr. Gascoigne's colt by Comus) were all trained in one stable.

The Judge placed but three.

At starting, Comte d'Artois took the lead, and made severe running till near the Distance, when Barefoot passed him, and won by about two lengths. Betting immediately before starting for the above—2 to 1 against the Rosanne colt, 5 to 1 against Barefoot, 7 to 1 against Comte d'Artois, 10 to 1 against Claude Lorraine, and 16 to 1 against Etiquette.—Run in 3 minutes, 23½ seconds.

The above is considered the actual race for the St. Leger Stakes, but it is necessary to state, that there was a field of twenty-seven horses mounted, and ready to start at the time appointed for the race, when, after three false starts, twenty-two of them went away without the word having been given, and although the bugle was sounded to call them back, they persevered and ran the Course through, the Rosanne colt coming in first, Barefoot second, and Comte d'Artois third.—Sherwood kept the lead as far as the Red-House, where he was headed by the Rosanne colt, Barefoot, and Comte d'Artois, and some severe running then took place between the three, the Rosanne colt winning by half a neck. Tinker was beaten very early in the race. The five that did not start were—Claude Lorraine, Mercandotti, Etiquette, Caledonian, and Ringlet. The following are those which were drawn after the false start:—Mr. Watt's b. c. Tinker, by Tramp; Lord Foley's b. f. Palais Royal, by Blucher; Mr. Uppley's b. c. by Proselyte, out of Harriet; Mr. Peirse's gr. f. by Comus, out of Lisette; Mr. Pringle's ch. c. Hydra, by Young Whiskey; Mr. Lambton's b. f. Honest John, by Comus; and Mr. Armstrong's b. c. Columbus, by Filho da Puta.

Betting before the false start:—7 to 4 and 9 to 1 against Tinker, 7 to 2 against Sherwood, 8 and 9 to 1 against the Rosanne colt, 13 to 1 against Barefoot, 14 to 1 against Tancred, 18 to 1 against Palais Royal, 20 to 1 against Claude Lorraine, and 30 to 1 against Comte d'Artois.

At the start the Miller of Mansfield was the favourite, and he was backed accordingly. When the race was over, however, it was found that the Miller of Mansfield had the lead, which he could not keep, for Jerry, when let loose, won easy by a length.—The Miller was third, (though not placed) and Streatham and Brutandorf were fourth and fifth.—Run in 3 minutes, 39 seconds.

All the horses went off at the first start, very closely together.—Streatham, soon after starting, took the lead, followed by Tarandus, and made very severe running, being at one time at least two lengths a head of the other horses. After passing the Red-House, Brutandorf challenged Streatham, but was soon defeated; and the latter kept his place until he had passed the Distance Post, when Canteen and the Miller came up, followed by Jerry. At the Stand the Miller had the lead, which he could not keep, for Jerry, when let loose, won easy by a length.—The Miller was third, (though not placed) and Streatham and Brutandorf were fourth and fifth.—Run in 3 minutes, 29 seconds.

The Judge placed but two.

Betting at Starting:—11 to 4 against Memnon, 9 to 2 against Redgauntlet, 15 to 2 against Homer, 10 to 1 against The Alderman, 20 to 1 against Cleveland, 20 to 1 against brother to Addy, 23 to 1 against Trinculo, 25 to 1 against Pastime, 30 to 1 against Brownlock, and higher odds against any other.

There was one false start; but when they went off in earnest, the scene was beautiful that presented itself—thirty horses, that you might have covered with a sheet, and the brilliant rays of the sun glittering on the colours of their jockies; it was dazzling beyond description. The general exclamation of "They're off!" was followed by the silence of death, and the intense interest of the race was visible in every countenance, as the horses appeared to float up the hill, Dauntless taking the lead, which he kept until they had passed it, when Falcon came in front, followed by brother to Addy, The Alderman, Memnon, Actæon, Fleur-de-Lis, Brownlock, and Zirza. At the turn on the hill, Redgauntlet was bored over a post, broke it, tore off his plate, and very much injured his foot, at the same time falling on his knees and head; he could not recover himself until nearly all the others had passed him. Notwithstanding this accident, he got up to Memnon at the Red-House, and at the moment Redgauntlet came up, brother to Addy, Falcon, Actæon, and Fleur-de-Lis, were all locked together. Scott seeing Redgauntlet coming, pulled a little to the right, to get a good place to go with him; at this instant Fleur-de-Lis fell, and Memnon would have gone over her had it not been for this unforeseen occurrence. Brother to Addy was knocked nearly down in the scramble. The boy who rode Fleur-de-Lis, almost senseless by the fall, jumped up like a stunned cock, and strange to say, though again knocked down and rode over by the following horses, received no injury. This accident might have been fatal to all the leading horses. Homer never appeared in front. After the accident, Memnon took his place, and it was 100 to 1 on him—The Alderman being second, but without a chance; it never was a race. Cleveland ran about a quarter of a mile in the ruck, when he declined, and walked in the very last; he could not raise a gallop.—Run in 3 minutes, 23½ seconds.

Memnon was sold to the Right Hon. the Earl of Darlington, but the sum was not named; however, it was declared to be "a lump."—It was currently reported to be from 3000gs. to 3500gs.
